

50 Believed Dead in Another Plane Crash; County Republicans Nominate Candidates

Wicks Has Praise for Frugality

Chairman Raps Kingston City Administration in Comparison to Republican Policy

Cites Public Gains
Smith, Murray, McHugh Likely Nominees for Public Office

Contrasts between current city and county administrations and the Republican policy of providing all-out tax relief indexed the aims of the local G.O.P. at its unofficial county convention in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium today.

The contrast between the Democratic city administration and the Republican county administration of government was stressed by Senator Arthur H. Wicks, county Republican chairman and the Republican nominee for governor, in a speech before the convention.

Although a contest for the office of sheriff loomed during the week, it was said before the convention went into session that George C. Smith, of Pine Hill, incumbent, would have no opposition from Howard C. Anderson, of Kingston, who preceded him as the county's law enforcement officer.

Other candidates practically assured of nomination were Edward E. Murray of Ulsterville for Commissioner of Public Welfare and James McHugh of Wallkill to succeed himself as coronor.

Candidate Murray, who is chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, as representative of the town of Shawangunk, became interested in the welfare commission position after Albert L. Kniffin of New Paltz said he would not seek re-nomination.

Wicks' welcoming speech followed: "Gentlemen of the clergy, other distinguished guests, delegates to this Ulster County Republican convention, and ladies and gentlemen: It is a pleasure for me to welcome you here today.

This annual Republican convention is called for the transaction of official business but I welcome the opportunity to greet you most cordially and to renew my friendship with all of you.

Des Moines Valley Flood Face New Flood Menace

Des Moines, June 14 (AP)—The flood spotlight swung again today to Ottumwa and the lower Des Moines river valley as residents rushed final preparations to meet new flood crests only slightly less severe than those which ravaged the valley last week making thousands homeless.

Meanwhile cities on the lower Iowa river and the Cedar river, Eastern Iowa tributaries of the Mississippi, also braced to fight off new flood waters. Several hundred families in many communities have been forced from their homes.

A small army of volunteer workers, National Guardsmen, Navy and Coast Guard personnel worked feverishly setting up temporary sandbag dikes in Ottumwa, scene of the most disastrous flood in the Des Moines river history.

The Weather Bureau reported the city of 32,000 could expect a crest of about 19.5 feet Sunday noon. This would be below the record 20.25 recorded last week, but still well above flood stage.

State Education Head Gives Answers on Centralization

Answers of State Commissioner of Education Francis T. Spaulding to questions regarding proposed centralization of schools in the towns of Olive, Shandaken and Woodstock are answered in the following letter addressed to Trustee L. B. Stowell of District 2 in Woodstock:

Dated June 12, 1947
Mr. L. B. Stowell,
Trustee, District No. 2,
Woodstock, New York.
Dear Mr. Stowell:

I have the letter signed by you and other trustees of District No. 2 and trustees of No. 3, No. 5 and No. 7 Woodstock in which you inquire with regard to the proposed centralization program for the Towns of Olive, Shandaken and Woodstock.

In the light of the facts at hand and the proposal submitted by the group from the three towns who took part in the study of the proposed centralization, the answers to the questions raised in your letter are as follows:

1. The actual number of pupils enrolled according to the district superintendent's reports for 1946-47 are 450 in grades one through six, 112 in grades seven and eight, and 277 in grades nine through twelve, a total of 839. Taking into account these present enrollments, the experience of other central districts and the consensus of those who took part in the conference, the junior-senior high school in the future would probably enroll approximately 410 pupils.

2. On the basis of these same estimates, it is expected that there would be between sixty and seventy pupils for each grade, ninth through twelfth.

3 and 4. To supply the daily schedule of subjects and the estimated number of pupils per class in advance is not possible because these matters will be affected by the administrative policy of the school, the abilities and interests of the students, and the nature of the curriculum.

Germany's Reds Open Offensive Of Their Own

Supported by Russian Occupation Authorities, Inspired by Coup in Hungary

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

Berlin, June 14 (AP)—Germany's Communists—supported by Russian occupation authorities and inspired by aggressive Communist tactics in Hungary and elsewhere in Europe—were embarked today on what an American official called a "summer offensive" of their own.

This offensive is being waged by the Soviet-sponsored, Communist-dominated Socialist Unity party (S.E.D.) with campaign headquarters in Berlin, where the representatives of Russian Communism and western democracy are in constant contact as they attempt to give four-power administration to this city and to Germany.

The Communists' principal objectives, as interpreted by responsible American officials are:

1. To regain full control of Berlin's city government—lost in a re-sounding election defeat last October—possibly by forcing an early new election.

2. To spread Communist influence into the western zones of Germany, occupied by the U.S. and Britain, through an intensified propaganda attack on British-American policies.

3. To quicken enactment of their economic policies in the Russian zone of Germany, overriding such political resistance as still exists there.

Prolet Red Campaign

In Berlin, American sources predicted, the Communists might soon launch a campaign for a new election before the end of 1947.

Berlin's temporary constitution provides that the next election be held in the fall of 1948, but the Communists are itching to make a full recovery of the top positions from which they were thrown in the city's first postwar election last October. Then the S.E.D., backed strongly by the Russians, got only 19 per cent of the vote while the Social Democrats obtained more than 48 per cent of the vote.

From this blow the Communist S.E.D. rebounded with a campaign of effective hamstringing of the Socialist city government, Russian authorities aided by insisting on veto rights over actions of the city administration.

The Communists made further resurgence when they won an overwhelming victory in Berlin's trade union elections in March which gave them control over a membership of about 400,000 unionists and a strong grip on the city's economic life.

Firemen Check Auto Fire, Chambers Street Blaze

Firemen checked a slight blaze in an auto owned by Joseph Orr of Port Jervis at 12:02 a. m. today in front of 521 Broadway. The blaze, according to the firemen, was caused by a short circuit in the wiring. No other damage was reported.

Another slight fire was checked by firemen at 3:27 p. m. Friday in a house owned and occupied by Arthur Short, at 141 Chambers street. The firemen reported that accumulated carbon in a stove pipe had set fire to wall paper. Damage was slight.

Transit Tieup Due to End

Oakland, Calif., June 14 (AP)—A truce appeared in sight today in the four-day key system transit strike which has tied up transportation for 500,000 riders.

Sides met to discuss conditions under which the 3,000 workers proposed to return to their jobs immediately and negotiate a contract later. The A.F.L. unions offered an agreement for an immediate return to work.

The company agreed, and preliminary talks were recessed on an optimistic tone last night.

Klan to Continue

Atlanta, June 14 (AP)—Dr. Samuel Green of Atlanta, commenting on the dissolution of the Ku Klux Klan as a national organization, said today that the Association of Klans would continue "as before" to carry on a program of "Americanism."

The Ku Klux Klan surrendered its charter as a national corporation in Superior Court here yesterday. Attorney General Eugene Cook pointed out, however, that revocation of the Klan's parent charter would in no way prevent the Klan from operating as an unchartered group.

Glenford Meeting Slated Wednesday On Centralization

Voters of District No. 7 in Hurley Will Talk Over Three-Town School Plan

There will be a special meeting of the voters of District No. 7, town of Hurley held at the Glenford schoolhouse on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of discussing the school district's part in the proposed three-town centralization plan.

Originally when centralization of Olive, Woodstock and Shandaken was discussed District 7 of town of Hurley was also to be approached to come into the central district since this district lies immediately adjacent to the Olive line. This matter remained dormant until Trustee James Stoutenberg and Trustee Elmer Howard Hopkins recently were approached and asked to hold a meeting to gain the opinion of the residents of the district. The meeting Wednesday evening is the result.

It is proposed, the trustees say, to bring the matter before the district and have it discussed pro and con by people both from Woodstock, where the plan is opposed, and from the other areas where centralization is favored.

Invitations have been issued to both District Superintendent Reginald Bennett of Cheshier and District Superintendent Clarence Johnson who has jurisdiction over the Hurley district.

Trustee Elmer Hopkins said this was the first meeting to be held in District 7 to discuss the matter and it is hoped that as a result the meeting it will be determined whether the people desire to join the centralization plan. "Views of both sides will be sought," said Mr. Hopkins.

At present there are 34 students in District No. 7 and in fall the school population will be 39 for the one room school.

According to the school census at the present time there will be 27 pupils in the first three grades when school opens in the fall.

In the original centralization plan discussed some time ago there was included in the scheme the inclusion of the Glenford district school because its close relationship to the Ashokan district. The town of Olive extends almost to Glenford the town line being near Temple's pond.

Also included in the three town centralization plan is one district in Greene county adjacent to Lexington.

Motion Denied

New York, June 14 (AP)—A motion for dismissal of an indictment charging Leon Josephson, an admitted Communist, with refusal to be sworn and testify before a sub-committee of the House Un-American Activities Committee in the Federal Court House on March 5 was denied yesterday by Federal Judge Francis C. Caffey.

Josephson, a former Trenton, N. J., lawyer now living in New York, challenged the constitutionality of the indictment and its sufficiency. He said he did not refuse to testify, but only refused to be sworn.

Airliner Hit Blue Ridge Mt.

Rescue Parties Making Way Through Rugged Country to Scene of Tragedy

47 Passengers

Red Cross Officials Are Listed Among Those on Plane

Leesburg, Va., June 14 (AP)—The splintered wreckage of a Capital Airlines plane, missing since last night, was located on a mountain top northwest of here today and there appeared no hope any of the 50 persons aboard had survived.

James Franklin, maintenance director for the airlines, sighted the wreckage from a small search plane.

"It looks as though it exploded and was torn all to pieces," he said. The wings are imbedded in the mountain.

As for survivors, Franklin said, "I don't see how there could be." Rescue parties were making their way through the brushy, rugged country to the scene but it was expected to be hours before they could reach there and return.

The ship, flying from Chicago to Washington on a murky, rain-swept course, went silent late yesterday after making a routine radio exchange with a station at Martinsburg, W. Va.

As the hours passed without further word, hundreds of men were enlisted in a night ground search throughout this area on the Virginia-West Virginia border.

At daybreak, as these parties still scoured the hills, Franklin took off in a light plane from Winchester, Va., and found the airliner by following its normal course.

The big ship was a four-engine plane of the type known to commercial fliers as a DC-4. Like two other planes which crashed with heavy loss of life in the last 47 days, it was a former army plane—a military C-54 converted to civilian use.

Forty-two persons died May 29 in the fiery wreckage of a similar plane taking off from LaGuardia field, N. Y. The next day another plane of the same type crashed near Port Deposit, Md., killing 53.

Investigations of both crashes are still underway. Some indications developed that a structural failure in the tail assembly caused the Port Deposit disaster and the Army and Navy ordered the C-54's temporarily grounded pending inspection of this assembly.

47 Passengers

Aboard the Capital Airlines ship were 47 passengers—one a 10-month-old infant—and a crew of three, pilot, co-pilot and hostess.

Among the passengers was Dr. Courtney Smith, for the past two years medical director of the County . . .

dedicate ourselves as American citizens to the task of making ourselves and our country more worthy of the sacrifices of those who created, built, preserved and protected this great country of ours.

Cities Progress

Since we last met here in annual convention, the Republican party of Ulster county has continued the march of progress in the cause of good government for which it has long been noted.

Among the many notable accomplishments of our Republican board of supervisors are the maintenance of a low level of taxation; the authorization of an Ulster county center clinic; the establishment of a county health department; and the consolidation of the city of Kingston and into the welfare department of the county of Ulster.

The Ulster County Cancer Clinic will be one of the finest and most complete diagnostic and treatment clinics in the country. It will be equipped with the most scientific apparatus for the diagnosis of cancer and other tumors. It will encourage and permit the early detection, treatment and cure of cancer. It will save the lives of people perhaps now listening to the sound of my voice. It will contain the most modern deep X-ray therapy equipment and will be supplied with radium. It will be in charge of technicians expert in the diagnosis, treatment and cure of cancer. These technicians will be assisted by your own family physician. No longer will people die because of lack of diagnosis and treatment facilities. No longer will sufferers be compelled to travel long distances to other hospitals for treatment. This clinic will be built as soon as conditions permit. The new building will be built next to the present Kingston Laboratory. The staffs of the Kingston Laboratory, the Ulster County Board of Health, and the hospitals and physicians of Ulster county, the cancer foundation and other interested groups, will all work together and will strive to stamp out the dread disease of cancer in Ulster county.

Frugality Produces Cash

I am proud and happy to be able to report to you that by patient good management of the affairs of Ulster county, there has been accumulated in the county's post-war construction fund a sum sufficient to build and equip this great cancer clinic. The county has saved its money and has the cash on hand. The county will not have to look for money and bonds for this great public improvement.

Contrast, if you will, this good management of the county's affairs by the Republican party with what has been happening in the city of Kingston during recent years under Democratic administration.

Democrats Spent All

The city under Democratic control has not saved a cent. Instead, they have borrowed approximately one million dollars since they took control of the city of Kingston a few years ago. While other counties, cities, towns and villages in the state are building up post-war construction funds, the city of Kingston was issuing bonds and putting a mortgage on every home in Kingston. At this point, I think I should voice a question often heard: What public improvements benefiting the people have been made in the city of Kingston since the Democratic administration took control of one million dollars? What has Kingston actually received to show for the borrowing and spending of this vast sum? The question I often hear asked is: Where did the money go and what did it get for?

Now let me tell you that the newly established county health department, under the able jurisdiction of the Ulster County Board of Health, is performing most excellent service in protecting the health of all of our residents. This centralization of health services, and the program of the Ulster County Board of Health in the forefront of the counties of the state in the field of public health protection.

Rescued City Administration

The board of supervisors during the past year also authorized the taking over by the county welfare commissioner of all welfare functions heretofore administered by the city of Kingston. It is believed that these two consolidations of government functions are the best that can be accomplished. However, I remind you that the taking over by the county of the city health department and the city welfare department rescued the Democratic city administration from a serious financial plight.

You know, the 2 per cent tax limitation on the state constitution became effective on January 1, 1947. The Democratic city administration did nothing to meet the situation except to deny that it existed. They just sat down and waited for the storm to strike. And it finally did strike. When the storm broke, they could think of nothing better to do than to ignore the state constitution and to submit a budget which was far in excess of that permitted by that constitution. Their budget was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court and they were compelled to submit another, legal budget by court order.

State Wage Boosts Possible

During the war, with the cost of living mounting, the Democratic city administration claimed it was unable to adequately compensate city employees because of the tax limitation. The Republican party is always ready and willing to rescue the people from the blunders of the Democratic party. Republicans have had to do this many times in our nation's history. We have had to do it right here in Ulster county, you will recall. So by taking over the city health and welfare departments, we have relieved the city of the cost of these two departments in their 1947 budget and thereby made possible the payment of wages to many of our city employees. The cost of the health and welfare departments which the county is now administering for the city will be assessed to the city at the end of this year as county charges, which are exempt from the 2 per cent tax limitation, and these charges will be added to the city's tax rate for 1948.

Good Roads for Ulster

Now let me talk briefly about state highway construction in Ulster county. Some of you have asked me when the state highway program will commence. As you know, because of unsettled conditions in the labor and materials markets, it has been difficult up until a short time ago, to get contractors to bid on state road contracts. The situation, however, is now improving. I have just received a letter from the State Department of Public Works, stating that nearly a million dollars of work is already under contract in Ulster county and work is now proceeding on the new highway from Catskill to the Greene county line and on the Kingston-Ellenville highway between Wapping and Kerhonkson, that more than seven million dollars of additional work is now scheduled for Ulster county and will be progressed as soon as bids can be obtained and let.

This seven million dollars will be used for the extension of the concrete pavement on Route 28 for 10 miles from West Haverly to Catskill, for the relocation and reconstruction of Route 52 from Ellenville to Woodbourne; for the construction of the thruway for the Saugerties Interchange; and for the construction of a nine-mile section of the thruway between Kingston and Saugerties; and for the elimination of the Broadway railroad crossing in Kingston.

Will Continue Efforts

I will continue my efforts to obtain for this county a modern system of highways to which our industrial, commercial and recreational resources entitle us.

Now, in conclusion, may I say a word about the coming election in November. This is what is called an off-year because no national or state officials will be elected. But it is not an off-year in Ulster county. This is the year that we in Kingston and in Ulster county elect our own local officials. We will elect a board of supervisors, a sheriff, a commissioner of public welfare, a coroner, and a city of Kingston, a mayor, a president of the common council and a common council.

What men are elected to those local offices, what political party they believe in, what principles of government they stand for, how they act and what they do—and what they don't do—will have a direct effect on every one of us and on our children and on our community.

Vote to Protect Liberty

No election day should ever be an off-day in America.

Liberty and freedom are disappearing from the earth because men have not exercised their rights and obligations as citizens. Here in America we must wake up and discharge our full obligations as citizens if we are to keep America free.

Every eligible voter must discharge his duty by attending party caucuses, by voting in the primaries and by voting on election day.

Preach this gospel to the voters of your district. Wake them up to the peril of neglecting their God-given rights as citizens of this great country. Urge them to discharge their duty in selecting and electing the representatives in whose hands and to be placed the government of the county and city. In voting for candidates for the board of supervisors, point out to the voters in your district that a vote for the Republican candidate is the only way in which they can guarantee the continuation of the present sound and progressive policies of the Republican party in the county.

You delegates from the city of Kingston are well aware of why the present Democratic administration in the city must be replaced and why it would be for the best interests of the city that it be replaced by a Republican administration.

So, until we meet again, good luck to you all and to the cause which you here represent.

LeFevre's Address

Following is the address of Congressman LeFevre:

Mr. Chairman, Members of the Ulster County Convention and Friends, as is always the case, I am very happy to be back in my home county and to be here for the annual Republican convention. This is a privilege I always enjoy. As county chairman, Senator Wicks asked me to speak today. I felt highly honored to believe the senator thought this would be an excellent time for me to report what has been accomplished in Washington by a Republican Congress, and to make a realistic appraisal of the situation which exists at present.

As you know, the 84th elections gave the Republicans a good substantial working majority in the House and a very small majority in the Senate. During the campaign last fall, Republican spokesmen promised that if elected, the Congress would do certain things. Congress is moving full speed ahead and is trying hard to accomplish the things you want done in Washington.

Ever since the 80th Congress convened on January third, New Deal propagandists have been working overtime to sell the country on the idea that this is a "do nothing" Congress. Perhaps that is to be expected since they all are New Dealers hoping to keep their soft downy federal beds.

One Republican promise last fall was a substantial cut in withholding and other income taxes. The House passed and sent to the Senate bill that would have done this. The Senate rejected it. The bill is now in the House. Many times he stated that he is against lightning the people's tax burden at this time. In his address at the Democratic party's Jefferson Day banquet he said he would favor tax relief at what he termed "the proper time." Since he was speaking to a partisan political gathering, we might easily presume he believes the proper time to cut taxes is just before the 1948 elections—that's the way to get credit for that.

The tax bill has since been passed by the House and the Senate and both Houses have approved the conference report. President Truman has until the 16th to sign or veto the measure. The bill promises that 61 per cent of the reduction goes to persons receiving net incomes of $5,000 or less, and of that amount, almost 71 per cent goes to individuals with incomes of less than $3,000. Therefore the largest percentage of reduction goes to the little fellow. It's a very fair bill. The people want tax relief and after fourteen years of wild New Deal spending they want it now. It is relieving that we might not get our tax reduction bill. The President may have in mind the prevention by presidential veto—but every taxpayer in the nation would realize that the responsibility for delaying tax relief would rest right upon him.

Another Republican promise last fall was curbing federal expenditures. The House has approved a very substantial cut in the total federal budget and in the individual appropriation bills. I can assure you these millions of dollars lopped off in appropriations have been saved after careful and cautious study by the third working members of the appropriations committee without impairing the armed services and other necessary government activities. As Representative Dirksen said during the course of debate, "every one is for economy so long as you don't take me out of economy." The people are tired of hearing and seeing federal bureaus filled with personnel stumbling over one another. It is quite natural for you and me to hear, anguished remarks from these tax eating bureaucrats. Unfortunately, although we will have a Republican Congress, we will have it in the White House. It is possible that some of our efforts to reduce government expenses may be defeated temporarily by a presidential veto—but that can definitely be settled in the fall of 1948.

Congress has stopped the portal to portal suits racket which threatened to destroy American industry and America itself. These suits threatened to take six billions of dollars from industry and would have put many firms out of business. This is one of the bills where the President very reluctantly gave in. The last minute took his stand agreeing with a Republican Congress.

The Congress also submitted to the states a constitutional amendment to limit to two terms the tenure of office for any man holding the office of President of the United States. This amendment has already been ratified by at least a dozen state legislatures and will strengthen our free government.

Congress has insisted upon the termination of many wartime powers, thus eliminating several unnecessary controls on the private lives of our people.

The Congress has passed legislation to give aid to Greece and Turkey. This legislation was really a "hot potato" and a drastic change in our foreign policy. It was very amusing to find some of my colleagues, good sound Americans, largely on the middle of where the spokes of the international ideas and philosophies have not as yet taken very deep root, line change their duty in selecting and electing the representatives in whose hands and to be placed the government of the county and city. In voting for candidates for the board of supervisors, point out to the voters in your district that a vote for the Republican candidate is the only way in which they can guarantee the continuation of the present sound and progressive policies of the Republican party in the county.

Shortly after our return in January, the new Congress was completely reorganized, putting in effect what was called the Streamlining Bill. To consolidate 49 committees into 19 committees is no small job in itself. This took time but in five months much has been accomplished to fulfill our promises. It is gratifying to report that the Republicans had the support of some Democrats in meeting the new program.

However, the New Deal Democrats, taking their cue from the White House, have balked at the way. It has not been easy to pass these promised bills. We must remember the Democrats still have control of the vast propaganda machine entrenched in the executive departments and bureaus. They are using that machine to discredit the activities of the Republicans in every way. They are fighting to the last ditch to retain their places on the federal payroll. Therefore, I caution you not to accept at face value the statements of our administrative officials seeking to present a self-serving interpretation of what is going on in Washington and being paid to do it by public funds.

I have boundless confidence in the future of America. Let us resolve to break the shackles that a bureaucratic octopus has fastened upon us. A wonderful start was made last fall to accomplish this, but we cannot afford to relax. We must be united enthusiastically to win in 1948. I have not, as yet, gone on record as one who has made predictions, but off-the-record and have in our own family circle. I can see an ever increasing enthusiasm for the next chief executive stepping up from the executive mansion in Albany to the White House in Washington.

In closing I want to congratulate our own county organization in continuing its custom of holding these annual county conventions. This is really a living example of American democracy at work. Anything that is successful calls for preliminary work. Here is what the county chairmen, Senator Wicks, excels in getting teamwork with each town committeemen. The committeemen arrange for the respective caucuses and elect delegates to attend these conventions. Here the candidates seeking office come before the people's representatives.

Even though every candidate may not be successful, he has the opportunity to meet the various delegates and to let his desires become known to the delegates and to his party. Such procedure is healthy for the party. Here differences are ironed out and an

Gardenaid at Syracuse Exposition

The front hitch Gardenaid, product of the Eastern Tractor Manufacturing Corporation of this city, is attracting wide attention in Syracuse, where it is on display as part of the Syracuse Homes Exposition. One of the enthusiastic admirers of the Kingston product is Mayor Frank J. Costello of Syracuse, who is shown above with standard of living and to improve the welfare of the people, we must all work together for the maximum output of goods so that all of our people can buy the necessities of life at fair and honest prices. Personally, I do not think the President will dare to veto this bill. If he does, I feel confident that there are votes enough in both Houses to override his veto. The conference report passed in the House with a majority of more than 4 to 1 and in the Senate by 3 to 1. If you have watched the President's actions lately, you will notice that he keeps his car pretty close to the ground and follows along a pretty closely, but begrudgingly, the Republican program, which he knows is popular and needed. Furthermore, after the election last November, the President announced that he would cooperate with the new Congress. If that statement was anything more than a political gesture, it meant that he would cooperate in putting through the legislative program to which the Congress was committed. Certainly the Labor Relations Bill is part of that program. It can be said that the Labor Management Bill was put through in haste and anger or with any desire to punish anyone. The bill was worked out carefully, after extended hearings, in both House and the Senate. I believe the Congress is delivering the wishes of the people.

Among the highly controversial matters disposed of and perhaps the most important for the protection of the people was the protection of employees in the public service, who got out on strike.

There is in this country a growing awareness of the principle that it is improper for the civil service to strike against his employer—the people.

Public employees owe a duty to the whole society. A strike of firemen could overnight endanger the safety and possession of millions of people.

A strike of sanitation workers could produce an epidemic threatening the lives of other millions. A strike in the mental hospitals or the state prisons could cause the deaths of thousands to whom we had assumed the responsibility of rendering care, which they can not give to themselves.

Imagine the havoc that would be raised by a walkout of prison guards or policemen.

That public employees could not strike has long been the case law or law handed down by court decisions. This bill restates the existing law and fixes penalties.

The penalties in this bill are moderate but firm. By their clear terms they will protect loyal employees and what is more important will protect the interests of all the people.

The state and all its governmental sub-divisions have a responsibility under this new law. That is to make certain that no public employer maintains just and fair standards. We can never relax in the determination to be a fair, just and generous employer.

I am proud of the part I had in this legislation having been the sponsor of the bill in the Assembly. The messages I have received from the people of Ulster county leaves no doubt that it has received their approval.

The first new law of the 1947 session of the Legislature was that which appropriated $25,000,000 to continue the emergency housing program for veterans.

The Legislature placed its unanimous approval on the proposed constitutional amendment to provide a $400,000,000 state bonus to veterans of World War 2.

Our school teachers now enjoy the highest state-wide schedule of teacher's salaries in the nation.

This permanent program, which took effect July 1, 1947, provides for minimum salaries of from $2,000 to $4,100 for teachers in communities of less than 100,000. For teachers in cities of more than 100,000 the minimum salaries run from $2,200 to $4,510. In New York city from $2,500 to $8,125.

Every teacher with a masters degree will receive an additional $200 beyond the minimum scheduled.

A measure was passed making full compensable workmen's compensation claims growing out of total disability or death from silicosis and other dust diseases. Heretofore claims have been subject to a ceiling limitation, which has been raised from time to time and now is removed entirely.

Measure for Workmen

Another measure which I sponsored extends the time to file a claim for workmen's compensation benefits from one to two years.

A security fund to guarantee payment of automobile liability insurance claims in the event an insurance company failed was provided in another measure passed at this year's session.

By another bill additional safety accessories are required on school buses.

The legislature's joint committee on cerebral palsy recommended appropriation of funds to establish a research treatment center which the state health department suggested should be set up at LeRoy, under the direction of the University of Rochester Medical School, an appropriation of $150,000 was made for this purpose and this joint committee was continued another year.

For Protection of Government

Always aware of the necessity of protecting our government from those who might seek to destroy it in order to substitute some untried ideologies it was considered wise to pass a bill authorizing the attorney general to proceed against oathbound organizations that fail to file membership lists with the secretary of state. District attorneys have the right to undertake such proceedings under existing law.

Many other important measures became law, in fact 908 bills were signed by the Governor and became law. They are far too numerous to mention here, however from this short resume you cannot help but appreciate that your present state administration is vigorous and is desirous of acting for the welfare of the people of our state.

Urges All to Act

My friends we know of no form of government which can serve its people better than a democracy, therefore it is incumbent upon us to have faith in its workings and to aid it by expressing our wishes and desires to improve and better it.

Above all we must unselfishly defend the principles of our government, and be united in our thoughts and actions and willing to work unselfishly for the continuance of a form of government which has given us such a splendid nation in which to dwell.

If we do not do these essential things there could come a time when we would find ourselves wishing to goodness that we had.

Say Controls to Last

Washington, June 14 (AP)—Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.) of the House Banking Committee today predicted final Congressional approval by next Thursday of a bill extending rent controls through February 29.

Dentists: I'm sorry, but I'm all out of gas.
Girl in chair: Ye gods! Do dentists pull that old stuff too?

A smartly named Art McCarly, was speeding to get to the party. He gave her the gas.
But the speed cop, alas, said: "Judge wants to see you my hearty."

A woman was driving along a country highway when she noticed two men climbing a telephone pole a short distance ahead. She turned to her companion in disgust and said: "Those men are fools. They probably think I never drove a car before."

We make for ourselves, in truth, our own spiritual world monsters, chimeras, angels, we make objective what ferments in us. All is marvelous for the poet; all is divine for the saint; all is great for the hero; all is wretched, miserable, ugly, and bad for the base and sordid soul. The mad man creates around him a pandemonium, the artist an Olympus, the elect a soul, a paradise, which each of them sees for himself alone.

They were getting up a ball game in a small town and lacked one player. They finally persuaded an old fellow to fill in, although he said he had never played before. He went to the bat and the first ball pitched he knocked over the fence. Every one stood and watched the ball, even the batter. Excitedly they told him to run. "Skunks!" he said. "What's the use of running, I'll buy you another ball."

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Defies Bad Luck
Chicago, June 14 (AP)—The Anti-Superstition Society's regular meeting last night—Friday the 13th—was cancelled because, said President Nathaniel Leverone, too few members were in the city.

Leverone, however, said he decided to preserve the society's reputation by taunting fate and left on a business trip.

"They said it's bad luck to start on Friday the 13th," he said, as he left at 9:13 p. m. in his auto, carrying license number 1313.

The society will next meet on Friday, February 13, 1948.

Amphibious Adventure
Detroit, June 14 (AP)—Kenneth Blue, 28, jumped into his car during last night's downpour and started to drive out of a parking lot on Belle Isle, island recreation park.

Water rose quickly around his auto and the windshield wiper was totally ineffective.

"Worst rain I ever saw," said Blue as he got out of the car to investigate. He discovered he had driven 10 feet into one of the Belle Isle's lagoons.

Confident Mailer
San Francisco, June 14 (AP)—Attorney Joseph E. Isaac opened a plain manila envelope which had come regular air mail from Switzerland and $7,073 in small bills tumbled out.

There was no return address, but the envelope bore the notation "to the outside." Contents: $7,073.

It was the first installment on a $50,000 cash estate being sent one of Isaac's clients by the attorney for Morse Holbeck, who died recently in Switzerland.

Formation Hazard
Kansas City, June 14 (AP)—More than 500 Boy Scouts assembled to board buses for a summer outing. Parents and Scouts piled baggage and locker boxes behind the area where the leader called the scouts to attention.

To afford more room to give instructions the leader ordered the scouts' eight paces backward.

Without an over-the-shoulder glance they stepped back, sprawling over the baggage.

Special Talk for Schacht
Frankfurt, Germany, June 14 (AP)—Hjalmar Schacht, former German finance minister, has been moved temporarily from a German internment center to "undergo a special interrogation," United States Army headquarters said today. "For security reasons, that is all we can say," an Army spokesman added.

Tells Police She Had Father Murder Her Admirer

Cincinnati, June 14 (AP)—A 23-year-old chubby, red-haired woman wanted her father "put away for good," so she persuaded him to murder her 61-year-old admirer nearly two years ago, she told police.

Detective Chief Clem Merz said Miss Virginia Gibbs was charged with murder shortly after she had walked into police headquarters yesterday and asked to be arrested in connection with the slaying, September 3, 1945, of Henry F. Smith, machine tool broker.

She said her conscience had been bothering her, Merz declared.

In a signed statement, the young woman said it was at her urging that her father, Charles Gibbs, 57, invaded Smith's downtown hotel room and pumped five pistol shots into the man's body.

"The father, charged with murder, was declared insane prior to the time of his scheduled trial and was sent to Lima State Hospital."

In her statement, the young woman said she "wanted to get rid of my father, not Smith."

"Father was mean to mother and I, and he beat us. I knew if he got into trouble they would put him away for good, so I plotted for him to kill Smith."

She said her father "hated Smith" and was jealous of him.

Coast Guard Change
Made to Save Money
New York, June 14 (AP)—The Coast Guard's Fourth District, established to meet wartime conditions, will be absorbed by the Third District office in New York at midnight June 30 for "economy of administration," Rear Admiral E. H. Smith, Eastern Area and Third District commander, announced yesterday.

The Fourth District, with headquarters at Philadelphia, extends from the north from Manassas Junction, N. J., southerly to the coastal end of the Delaware-Maryland state line, seven miles north of Ocean City, Md.

The Third District at present extends north and east along the coast to Montauk Point, N. Y., and Watch Hill, R. I.

In Philadelphia, Capt. F. J. Sexton, Fourth District commander, said the disestablishment order was directed by the secretary of the Treasury because of reduced congressional appropriations.

2 U.N. Holdup Problems
Lake Success, June 14 (AP)—The United Nations was stalled today on two major international problems—control of atomic energy and reduction of world armaments—and two U.N. commissions investigating trouble spots—Palestine and the Balkans—also hit snags.

The Arab Higher Committee for Palestine formally notified Secretary-General Trygve Lie that it intended to boycott the Holy Land inquiry which is scheduled to get under way Monday. In Cairo, Emil Sandstrom of Sweden, chairman of the Palestine Investigation Commission said "the Palestine Arabs' viewpoint would have been very useful to us and would also have been to their advantage."

Air Force Encampment
Stewart Field, Newburgh, June 14—Approximately 225 R.O.T.C. students will arrive here over the week-end to begin a six-week summer encampment, part of a far-reaching Army Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps program, designed to provide the A.A.P. with a steady flow of college-trained officers. Under the command of Lt. Col. Edward H. Nigro, of First Air Force headquarters, Fort Slocum, the students will put into practical application the theory learned in school and receive instruction in courses not presented on the campus.

Special Vets' Hospital
Washington, June 14 (AP)—A 1,000-bed special-type veterans hospital, in New York city for which the House Appropriations Committee has approved construction funds, will be used mainly for veterans destined for permanent hospitalization. This was indicated in a statement by Representatives Latham, Ross, Nodder and McMahon, New York Republicans, whose districts are located in the area to be served by the hospital. The hospital, which the Veterans Administration has estimated will ultimately cost $20,000,000, will contain special structural features not found in standard hospitals.

Hamilton's New President
Clinton, N. Y., June 14 (AP)—Thomas Brown Rudd of Clinton, acting president of Hamilton College for the last several months, has been appointed president, to serve until June 30, 1948. Rudd succeeds David Worcester, who resigned because of his health. The trustees announced the appointment yesterday, and also announced a general increase in faculty salaries ranging from 12 1/2 to 20 per cent.

Auxiliary Will Meet
A regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Bloomington Fire Department will be held Tuesday night, June 17, at the Creek Locks School starting at 8 o'clock. Members who had donation books are requested to bring them to the meeting.

Want Wallace Silenced
Washington, June 14 (AP)—The American Anti-Communist Association today accused Henry A. Wallace of "a strong sympathy with the cause of Communism" and asked a Federal Court to keep him from speaking in a government-owned outdoor theatre here Monday night. The association declared Wallace's sponsor, the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, is a "Communist group" and that the former vice president is "a speaker whose methods incite human emotions toward riot and insurrection."

G.M. Show Will Reveal Military Secrets June 20

How American snipers were able to accurately "pick off" Japanese troops sneaking toward United States lines in the blackness of the jungle and many other former top military secrets will be answered at the "Previews of Progress" General Motors show which will be given in Kingston Friday evening, June 20, at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium under auspices of local General Motors dealers.

During the show many of the latest developments and refinements in the field of scientific research will be revealed and demonstrated.

"Basically, invisible infra-red rays were used to spot Japs at night," Mr. MacDonald narrator of the show, recently told an audience. Unseen light rays were projected ahead of the gun, and these rays were reflected into electrical apparatus mounted on the barrel of the carbine.

How infra-red rays were used to signal between ships at night without fear of interception by the enemy, demonstrations of jet propulsion, the manufacture of butyl rubber the base of synthetic tires and tubes, atomic energy, artificial illumination, sound recording, heatless cooking and many other up-to-the-minute developments will be shown.

Admission to the show will be free to the public.

clock at the high school auditorium under auspices of local General Motors dealers. During the show many of the latest developments and refinements in the field of scientific research will be revealed and demonstrated.

"Basically, invisible infra-red rays were used to spot Japs at night," Mr. MacDonald narrator of the show, recently told an audience. Unseen light rays were projected ahead of the gun, and these rays were reflected into electrical apparatus mounted on the barrel of the carbine.

How infra-red rays were used to signal between ships at night without fear of interception by the enemy, demonstrations of jet propulsion, the manufacture of butyl rubber the base of synthetic tires and tubes, atomic energy, artificial illumination, sound recording, heatless cooking and many other up-to-the-minute developments will be shown.

Admission to the show will be free to the public.

Takes Air Force Test

Dewey DuMonde, of 111 Emerson street, Kingston (standing, right) awaits his turn at Stewart Field, Newburgh, to take the eye test for the recently re-opened A.A.F. Aviation Cadet Pilot Training Course scheduled to begin in July.

DuMonde and eight others were the first to apply for the flight training which is open to civilians and army personnel alike. They hope to make the first class of 500 to take the 52-week course which leads to a pilot's rating and commission in the Army Air Forces. (U. S. Air Force Photo).

4-H Leaders Hold Discussion on Fair And Dress Review

Sixteen 4-H local leaders met Friday evening at the 4-H office on John street to discuss the county fair, dress review and summer projects.

The dress review will be held on July 16, the place in Kingston to be announced later. All club members are being encouraged to model garments made this year. Classes will include everything from aprons to suits. Garments may be made of either new or old material.

There was a discussion on the county fair and new fields of entry were pointed out including the "Better Methods" project, "Home Grounds Improvement" and "Additional Records." Judging; contest has also been enlarged. There is a special class for Kiwanis men and the Kiwanis sponsored poultry members to compete in judging poultry.

The technical side of housing the enlarged exhibits at the fair to be held in Forsyth Park was also discussed.

Local leader identification cards were presented.

Mrs. Hugo Dachenhausen and Mrs. James Coutant of Ruby presented the 4-H Department with $32.50 earned by their clubs for the 4-H Camp Fund. The Ruby Home-making Club was organized in February and there was real surprise to the leaders and agent that the club had earned such a substantial amount in this short period. This is the second contribution to the Camp Fund, the first having been given by the Lake Katrine Agriculture 4-H Club.

Four Injured in Three-Car Crash At Westchester

Yonkers, N. Y., June 14 (AP)—Four persons were injured here today, two of them critically, in a three-car collision on the Cross County Parkway of the Westchester county parkway system.

Chief Inspector William J. Slater of the Westchester County Parkway Police identified the injured as Celestine Leone, 45, owner of Leone's Restaurant at 239 West 48th street in New York city, Leone's wife, Yoland, 25; Joseph P. Corlick, 42, of Jersey City, N. J., and David Beretiglia, 49, of 68 Brookside avenue, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Leone and his wife were taken to Yonkers General Hospital suffering from bone fractures and their condition was listed as critical. Corlick also was in Yonkers General Hospital with lacerations of the face while Beretiglia was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, suffering from lacerations of the face and body.

Slater said cars driven by Corlick and Leone were in collision with one driven by Francis J. Boyle, 50 (15 Baughant Place) New Rochelle, N. Y. How the accident occurred was not immediately determined.

Beretiglia was a passenger in the car driven by Leone.

Twig-Growth by June Determines Health of Tree

The average shade and fruit tree is in full leaf now and probably has made most of its annual increase in twig and branch growth.

If a tree is healthy, it should show an average of six to ten inches in twig and branch growth by the middle of June, says Prof. Sherman P. Hollister of the Bartlett School of Tree Surgery at Stamford, Conn.

Some trees may have grown more. But if its terminal branches have not grown several inches by this time, there could be cause for concern for the rate of growth applies almost equally to all trees. The number of new leaves on a tree reflects the rapidity of the twig growth.

A tree that does not attain proper stature should be examined for defects, Prof. Hollister says. It may be suffering from malnutrition. In such cases, feeding with a well-balanced tree food is recommended. It may be due to defoliation by insects or the ravaging work of borers and fungus diseases. In that event, a tree expert should be called in for advice.

But in any event, Prof. Hollister says all trees should be given a summer insecticide spray at this time. This is a preventative measure against continued attack by insects which prey during the summer months.

Summer care is highly necessary, for it is during this time that a tree does its most difficult work. Between the middle of June and late fall a tree must add new wood to its trunk growth, develop buds for next year's flowers and foliage, and store up enough food to carry it through the winter and the following spring.

the guidance program which is offered. Sample schedules for individual pupils might be as follows: (B and G means boys and girls, respectively).

9th Year
Academic (B & G); (a) English, Social Studies, General Science, Elementary Algebra, French I.

Non-Academic (B); (b) English, Social Studies, General Science, General Mathematics, Industrial Arts.

Non-Academic (G); (c) English, Social Studies, General Science, Homemaking A.

Academic (B & G); (a) English, Social Studies, Geometry, French II.

Non-Academic (B); (b) English, Social Studies, Int. Business, Shop (Wood).

Non-Academic (G); (c) English, Social Studies, Biology, Homemaking B.

Academic (B & G); (a) English, Chem. or Physics, Int. Algebra, French III, Typing.

Non-Academic (B); (b) English, Shop (2), Bookkeeping I.

Non-Academic (G); (c) English, Homemaking D, Comm. Arithmetic.

Academic (B & G); (a) English, Social Studies, Art-Music, Typing. The above schedules represent merely examples of the schedules which might be arranged under several possible programs of study. Other schedules including major emphasis in art, music, agriculture or commercial subjects could as readily be indicated and such subjects are provided in the plan.

The estimated number of sections (classes) in each subject-matter field in grades 7-12 is indicated in a chart which will be mailed to you shortly under separate cover.

It has been assumed that each pupil will participate in a physical education program and that health and guidance services will be provided for all pupils.

The following answers are numbered to correspond with your second set of questions:

(1) The estimated cost of the central building was put at $940,000.

(2) After considerable discussion, a cost of fifty cents a cubic foot was employed. This figure is less than actual building cost; at the moment but may represent a realistic estimate in the future.

Interest payments in the plan were figured at three per cent, whereas bonds could undoubtedly be sold today at one and one-half per cent or less; the assumption used that when building costs recede interest rates may increase. This problem has been discussed with numerous committees from all over the state during the past several years.

(3) The conference group agreed upon an item of $140,000 for the proposed six-grade building at Woodstock. This was also estimated at fifty cents per cubic foot.

(4) Our records do not indicate which of the schools in the Town of Olive are to be renovated. "The cost of renovation included in the program is that which has been found necessary for schools of this type."

(5) The term "lower grades as here used means the grades from kindergarten through the third.

(6) The transportation cost has been put in at $30,000. The Bureau of Field Services in the Department, after study of the roads, distances, and geographical distribution of pupils, considers this item sufficient to meet the anticipated costs of adequate transportation. It has not been possible to lay out exact bus routes since these would depend on the location of the new schools, and these locations would, as you know, be determined by vote of the people after the adoption of the proposed centralization.

I trust that this information will assist you in your deliberations in this very important matter.

Sincerely yours,

(sgd) FRANCIS T. SFAULDING.

Exiled Hungary Premier Asks Aid of Democracies

Shannon, Eire, June 14 (AP)—Ferenc Nagy, the exiled former premier of Hungary, expressed doubt today that his country's troubles were matter for the United Nations but said he hoped that "all the great democratic powers" would come to Hungary's aid.

He told reporters that he believed the recent Communist coup in Hungary, which resulted in his resignation, was a "direct result of American intervention in Greece and Turkey" and that the same political crisis "has been reproduced in all the southeastern European countries."

Speaking to reporters through an interpreter shortly before taking off for the United States in a Pan-American Airways plane, Nagy said he wanted to present to the American people the "truth of Hungary's case."

He arrived here by plane from Switzerland, where he was vacationing when Communist pressure forced his resignation. His plane is expected to reach New York at about 6:30 p. m. (EST) today.

As you know, he told reporters, there is little the United Nations can do.

"But I have my own project—wide publicity in the United States—and I know that an old European country like Hungary will be given a hearing, for I have the truth of Hungary's case," he said.

Pellone's Rally Checks Fusari's Streak at 48

New York, June 14 (AP)—The Twentieth Century Sporting Club has been trying to talk Charley Fusari and his manager, Vic Marsiel, into a welterweight title scrap with Ray Robinson, but that was before young Tony Pellone ended the Irvington, N. Y., swatter's victory string at 48 straight.

Pellone, from downtown New York, came from far back after Fusari piled up an edge through the first eight rounds of their ten-rounder in Madison Square Garden last night to grab a close decision.
